Some forty years in the past, in the bleak September of 1918, the ideal of Catholic Secondary Education became a reality with the formal opening of St. Mel High School for boys.

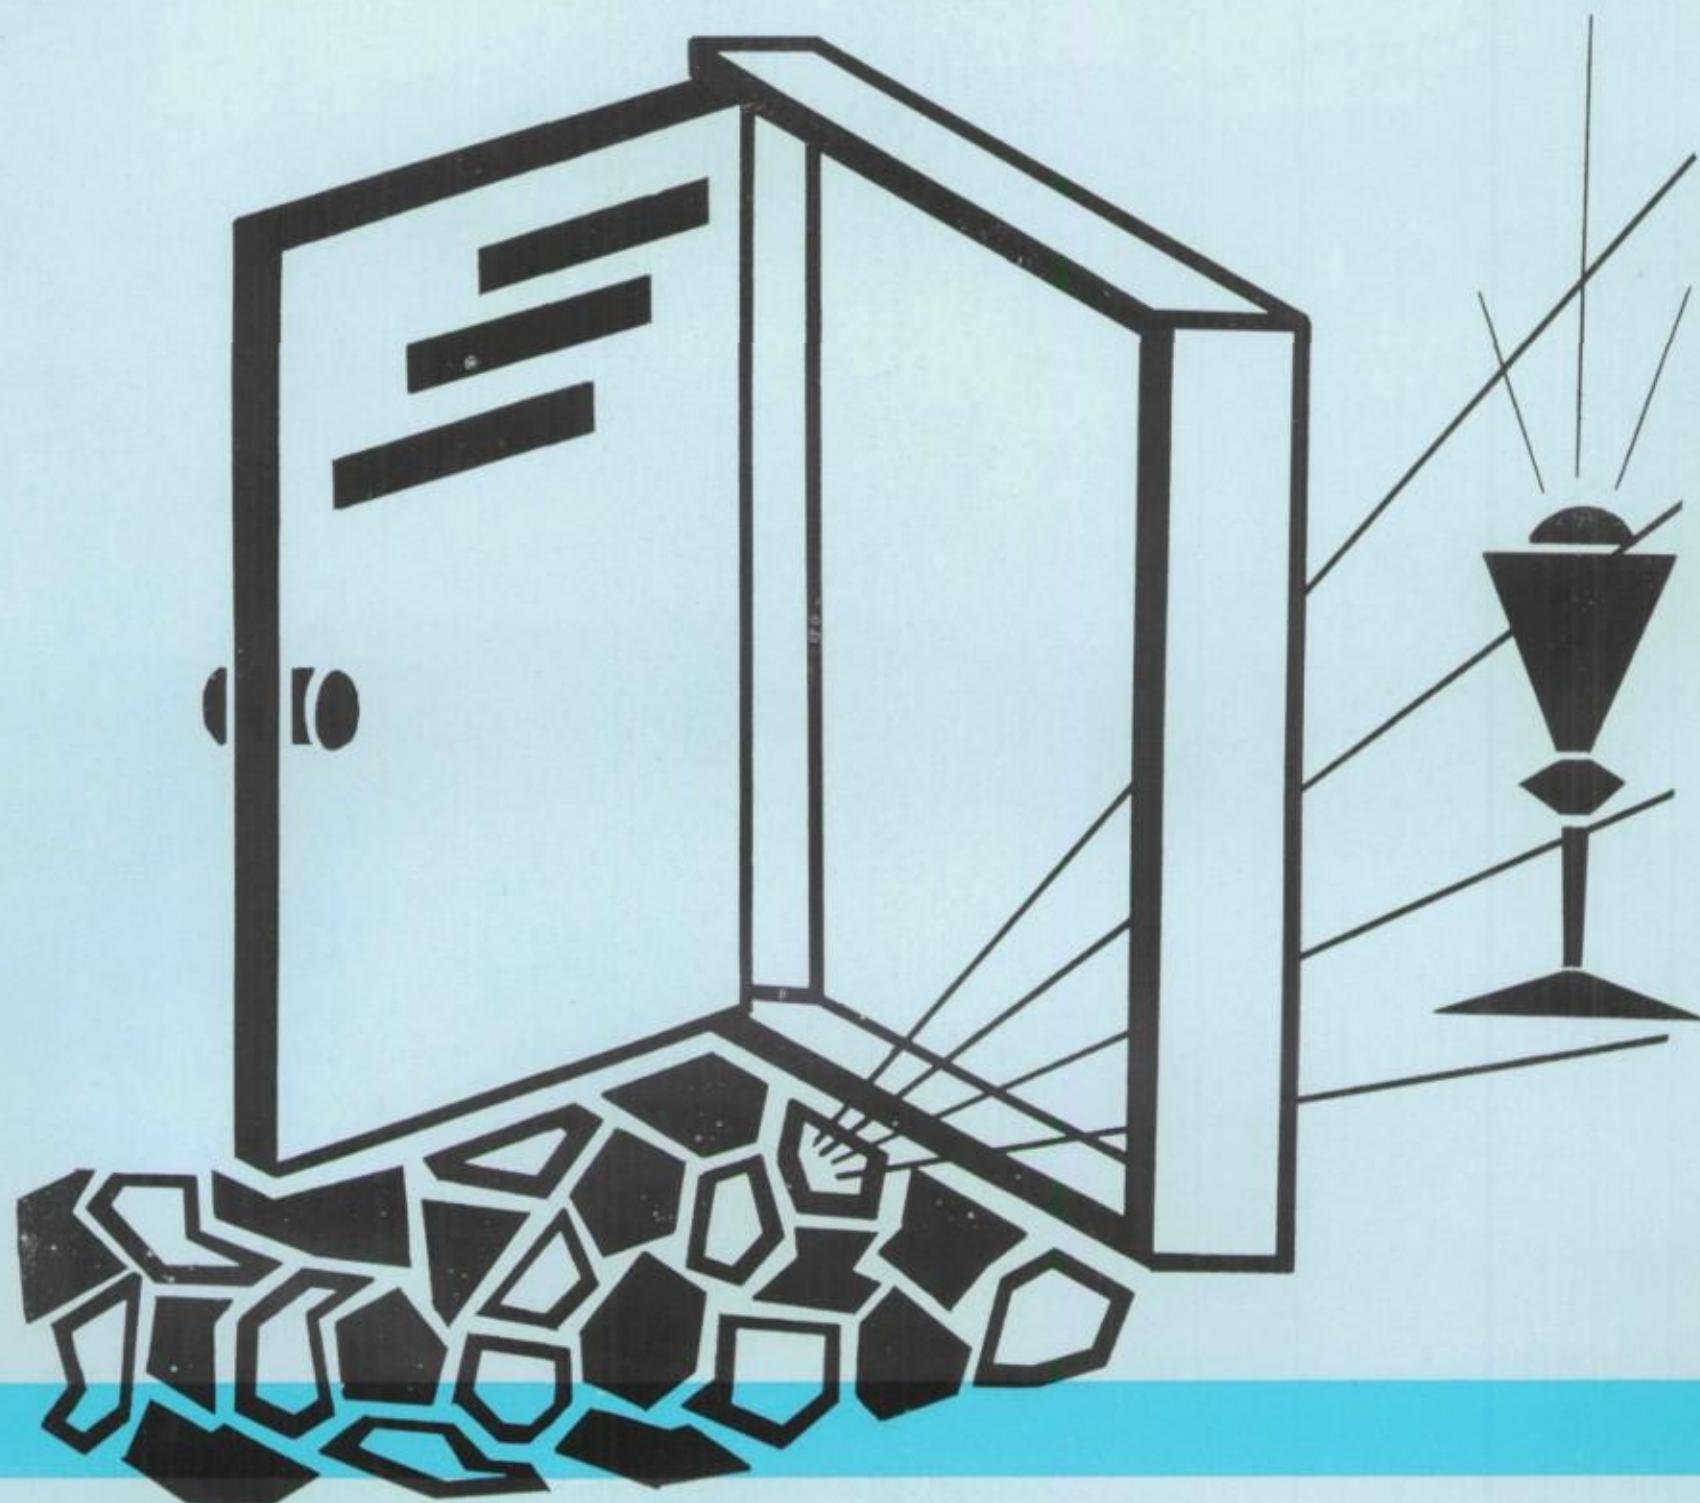

As the class of 1958, we are proud that our graduation has terminated the fortieth anniversary of the school. Wishing to give recognition in some way, we have considered it fitting to salute these past years in our yearbook.

The best way we can acknowledge the past is by dedicating the 1958 Knight to the future. This we have done. We salute the future of St. Mel and the important part it is playing in the program of modern Catholic education. We are looking ahead to the future progressive years that will bring the modern world unbelievable advances. By this avowal to the future, we unveil St. Mel as a modern institution, devoted towards the development and education of modern Christian leaders.

Thus from this era of space travel, swept-wings, and push-buttons, we have chosen the theme for the 1958 Knight. With little trouble, we have recognized this as the perfect year for "INTRODUCING THE MODERN."

Just what is the Modern Way?

The people of today are eating up the wild ideas of our scientists. Their craving for lunarliners, univacs, and robotized appliances have developed into a hysteria that is widely spreading throughout the country. In the confusion of today's modernism, people are constantly striving for what is modern, and what is new. Many times, after all their struggling, they are left perplexed and discontented. The most obvious reason for this is the simple fact that they do not know what is truly modern.

To find the answer to this question, we must turn back the clock to the most climatic moment in history, Calvary. From this Fount of Life, we draw all established truths, and these in turn absorb the strides of progress. This then is THE MODERN WAY.

Let us turn this page and introduce ourselves to the WAY of St. Mel, THE MODERN WAY. We will meet an administration alert to the progressive ideas of today, and a faculty that uses a fresh approach to the proper blending of the traditional and the modern. Let's make ourselves at home as we get acquainted with the various departments that reflect the modern approach.

Upon opening the door of the jagged road of life, we see that THE MODERN WAY finds its foundation in the nearly two-thousand-year old Church of Christ. However, this WAY is much more modern than the aged two-thousand years suggest. For God is Eternity. After all, what is more modern than tomorrow forever?

immaculate heart of mary, pray for me!

March 17, 1872, Monsignor Francis A. Purcell was born, just five months after the Great Chicago Fire. Out of this desolation came a man who dedicated his life to help young men find the Way, the Truth, and the Life.

The Monsignor spent his early childhood on a simple Kansas farm and through prayer, devotion, and plenty of hard work, Francis Purcell was ordained "a priest forever" on June 17, 1898. From that day, life wasn't easy for he was constantly called upon to serve God, and the people.

Now the Monsignor is pastor of St. Mel parish and we salute this fine gentleman, an example of the "Modern Man." To all those who are striving to achieve a goal through Christ, the Monsignor advises saying this ejaculation before saying your prayers:

"Jesus, I love You. Give me the grace to love You more and more."

brother director – peak of the pyramid

MESSAGE TO THE STUDENT BODY:

With the completion of this school year, we stand on the threshold looking back over forty years of Catholic Education at St. Mel High School. We see this school, and the even longer list of faithful alumni who have profited by this instruction. We are proud of our record established over so many years by the fine work which has preceded us, and we thank God for sending us such excellent men.

But to stand on the threshold and look only to the rear is fruitless unless we look also to the future. Our gaze must be in both directions. We can justly feel pride in our accomplishments of the past forty years. We must also look to the future to try to find out what the Catholic Education that we have received at St. Mel High School will mean to us, what it will do to make our lives more Christian, more American. The past can only aid us if we apply its experience to our present and future.

As we look to the record of the past through the pages of this book, let us also look to the future, that our deeds may be recorded with equal pride by generations yet to come.

Sincerely in JMJ,

Brother J. Camillus, FSC
Director.

Providence is their guide

Brother H. Maurice, Principal of St. Mel, Moderator of Fathers and Friends Club, is the man behind the scenes in just about everything with the name of the school tagged to it. He is an alumnus of De La Salle High School in Joliet, Illinois. An avid sports fan, Brother will offer his comments for hours on any sport. His advice has reached the ears of such notables as John Rigney, Vice-President of Chicago White Sox. He was the Athletic Director at De La Salle, Chicago; and President of the Catholic League in 1950. Brother was appointed as principal of St. Mel in 1953 and has been here ever since prevading the corridors of the school with his friendly and cheerful attitude.

Assistant Principal, Brother J. Richard, has a very busy job of getting the students of the West Building prepared to make the best of their high school career. Brother's favorite past-times are reading and hiking. He has taught at De La Salle, Chicago; Boys Town, Nebraska; De La Salle, Kansas City; and has been the Director of Novices at the Novitiate in Glencoe. Besides being so busy with school activities, Brother coached baseball and basketball at De La Salle, Kansas City. Brother also has been fortunate to study Theology at the Motherhouse in Rome for one year (1949-1950).

A native Chicagoan, Brother H. Dominic, has helped boys plan their future through his excellent Guidance Program. Brother likes tennis, reading, good music and hiking. For what is more pleasant to someone who has done a hard day's work than to listen to some good music? Brother has also taught at Cotter High School, Winona, Minnesota. Among the subjects the Brother has taught are: English, algebra, geometry, Latin, and religion. Brother's ambition is to teach in the philosophy and psychology departments at St. Mary's College. When asked what Brother thought of his job as Guidance Director, he said: "I find the assignment as Guidance Director most satisfying because of the opportunity it gives me to help each boy as a person, rather than as a member of a class, to decide upon and carry out his life plans."

The class of 1958 feels proud and privileged to present St. Mel with a new school song. On the following page is printed the music and lyrics of an Alma Mater Song composed and arranged this year by members of this class. We ask that it be considered as the modern addition to the fine school songs we already have.

This new TONE is found not only in our new song, but also in the many activities and events of the year. As the year unfolded, it was soon apparent that this was a year destined to be one of the outstanding achievements. To "kick off" the year the football team delighted its followers with a most successful season. Charged with this fever of success, we went on to establish a new record in the Harvest Party Drive. Following in this chain reaction came the most memorable Homecoming pageantry in years. Not to be outdone, our basketball team, picking itself up off the floor from an early season knock-down, rallied itself to a blazing finish by copping second place in the Central section and thus gaining a berth in the play-offs. Keeping in tune with the successful tempo of the year, the Meldramatic Club took their bows after a season of thunderous applause. As a dessert to this savory repast of exceptional performances, the Knights came through with another record in the Auxiliary Drive.

Above all, we The Class of 1958, will cherish forever those three days at La Salle Manor, where His Holy Presence crashed through the sound barrier of our minds and hearts.

It is indeed an honor to introduce to you, those who BEAT OUT the RHYTHM of our MODERN TONE.

THE ELECT OF THE SELECT

President of The National Honor Society, Bob Fiorita discusses plans for a new project for patrolling orderly boarding of buses after school. Other officers, clockwise from Bob, are Vic Pariso, Secretary; Chuck Dolezal, Treasurer; Art King, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Bob Hoffmann, Vice President.

The Society has used its organization to offer services to the community as well as to the school. Among such services were its invaluable aid to the TB Mobile X-ray unit and its sponsorship of the March of Dimes Drive. The success of Catholic Press Month and the order on CTA buses are fruits of their efforts.

"there's no business like show business"

The roars of approval gushing over the footlights gave the boys behind the velvet curtain the satisfaction of knowing—"we planned, we worked, we entertained."

Curtain time sounded on December 1, at Loyola Play Festival with their first production of the year—"Time Limit." Under the direction of Mr. Gerald Sullivan, St. Mel took home a "Superior" rating along with several individual awards.

Following up this successful show was the smash hit, "The Teahouse of the August Moon." Scenic and beautiful Tobiki Village was brought to Resurrection Auditorium by ways of the realistic and colorful designs of oriental scenery. The ingredient that made this show such a big success was its cooperation.

The Meldramatic Club closed the curtain on its eighth season with every drama club's peak challenge—the "thou's, shouldst's and withals" of Shakespeare in the classical farce—"The Taming of the Shrew."

Mel-Men, you need not steal that extra bow. You've earned it.

Meldramatic Club Officers discussing the future plans of the Club over a cup of coffee are (L. to R.) E. Cargill, V. Pres.; T. Sullivan, Pres.; M. Chiodo, Sec.; J. Laser, Treas.; and J. Zullo, Sgt. at Arms.

featuring "time limit" at drama festival

The Meldramatic Club jumped into the limelight with "Time Limit," a fast moving drama of the seamy life in a prisoner-of-war camp. Rich Ortenzo, playing the fiery Lt. Miller and Ed Cargill, playing the dual role of hero and traitor as Capt. Harry Cargill, bowed out with Gold Medal awards for their outstanding work. Also in the spotlight for St. Mel was Jim Wyza as Lt. Mike Livingston who, under the pretense of justice, was the diabolical force in the murder of Lt. Connors. For his role Jim won the Bronze Medal and a scholarship. "Time Limit," another giant step in the climb of the Meldramatic Club.

Lower Right: "You squealed on him, didn't you?" J. Wyza, T. DeChristopher, J. Flynn, P. Broske give Lt. Connors the third degree.

On February 1, 1958 two great spectaculairs came into being. The Army's Explorer made its first trip around the world and the Mel-dramatic club made its first debut of the year —two stars in their own right.

"the shrew and its crew"

The Meldramatic Club presented the Shakespearian comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew", on April 26 and 27.

A midspring night's dream came true on a gay spring night at Resurrection Auditorium as the Meldramatic Club had a ball putting on this lively farce. This spirited jollity was contagious to the audience as everyone joined in the fun. It didn't seem to matter if some of the lines of the classical expressions of Elizabethan English were understood. The Meldramatic Club proved a point that good drama, well presented, is well received.

Quoted last year by Observer Exchange Editor, Joe Van Zandt: 'If I am appointed Editor-in-Chief next year, this paper will be something the students will really look forward to reading.' And so it was. This year's Observer staff has brought forth one of the most sparkling publications yet seen by the student body. Besides keeping the students well informed about activities and interests, they have introduced several absorbing features viz. "something to remember you by"

Another year another story, and we have added the latest edition to our collection of yearbooks, the 1958 Knight. The past year has indeed been one of many achievements, and we have taken advantage of this year to tell the story by a new and novel method. To keep in step with the theme, we have presented the story in a modern way. By using a little color, design, art, and music—all tempered with simplicity—we have tried to create a "yearbook first." We hope that you like it and that you will think of it as being unusual and outstanding.

The Knight staff is indeed grateful to the many students who have so willingly devoted their talents toward making this book a reality. We show special gratitude for Mr. Gerald Sullivan whose efforts have made the success of the "St. Mel Alma Mater" possible.

In the late hours of the evening as we sat thinking of catchy titles and captains for this page, we thought of this, "It had to be us" and we're glad it was.

an out of this world retreat house

The Date is October 26, 1957. The place is LaSalle Manor in Plano, Ill. The reason is the dedication of a new retreat house for the use of the boys of Christian Brothers' Schools. Here, on these grounds, many souls will find God, their God, amidst the splendor of the rolling countryside.

This year sets a precedent, for a whole new string of memories will be carried by every alumnus. He will remember the beauty of the landscape and the stately log-hewn manor. He will carry with him a pleasant memory of sleeping in fresh, clean surroundings, and eating plenty of good food. But most of all, he will remember the three days he had spent alone with his God. Here he was doing some real straight thinking and preparing himself for this thing called Life.

The Senior Debate Team took on the modern look this year as their new moderator, Mr. Kondratowicz, took over the reins of the team. With this fresh look in the saddle the Senior Debators galloped through the season with a mighty fine record.

The two topics discussed this year were: "Resolved—That Direct United States Economic Aid To Individual Countries Should Be Limited To Technical Assistance and Disaster Relief; and That United States Foreign Aid Should Be Substantially Increased."

Under the capable direction of Brother William and Brother Conrad, the Junior Debate Team finished off the season with a sparkling record. With such a start they look forward to an even more successful season next year.

sounding off the big team

Here before you is the largest team in the school. It represents well over 200 hours of practice and 100 hours of performance time on the part of each of its eighty members. They work without benefit of a season—that is, they are on the job all the time in many different ways.

You see them here in both of their modes. They perform as a marching and show band for the football games and parades. Above they are arranged in concert formation, ready to dazzle your ears with the lilting strains of Mozart or the "Fascinatin' Rhythm" of Gershwin.

At our Basketball games a pep band was there to snap-up the cheers. In a city-wide ensemble contest sixty-six band members took first-place medals, thereby giving St. Mel the lead position. They have by many such feats taken the title of the best band in Chicago.

But this is not the entire picture, for behind them is one of the best band masters in the United States, Mr. Thomas Fabish. Mr. Fabish, who has been with St. Mel for twenty years, is the only man in the city of Chicago who is a member of the American Bandmaster's Association, a selective group of only one hundred of America's bandmasters. As his associate he has Mr. Ralph Meltzer a most able director and music teacher of the finest grade. For a moderator they have Brother George who with his assistant Brother Christopher form the hardest-working part of the big team. They do the so-called dirty work which consists of being a cleric, a janitor, a quartermaster, a sergeant at arms, and other numerous tedious tasks.

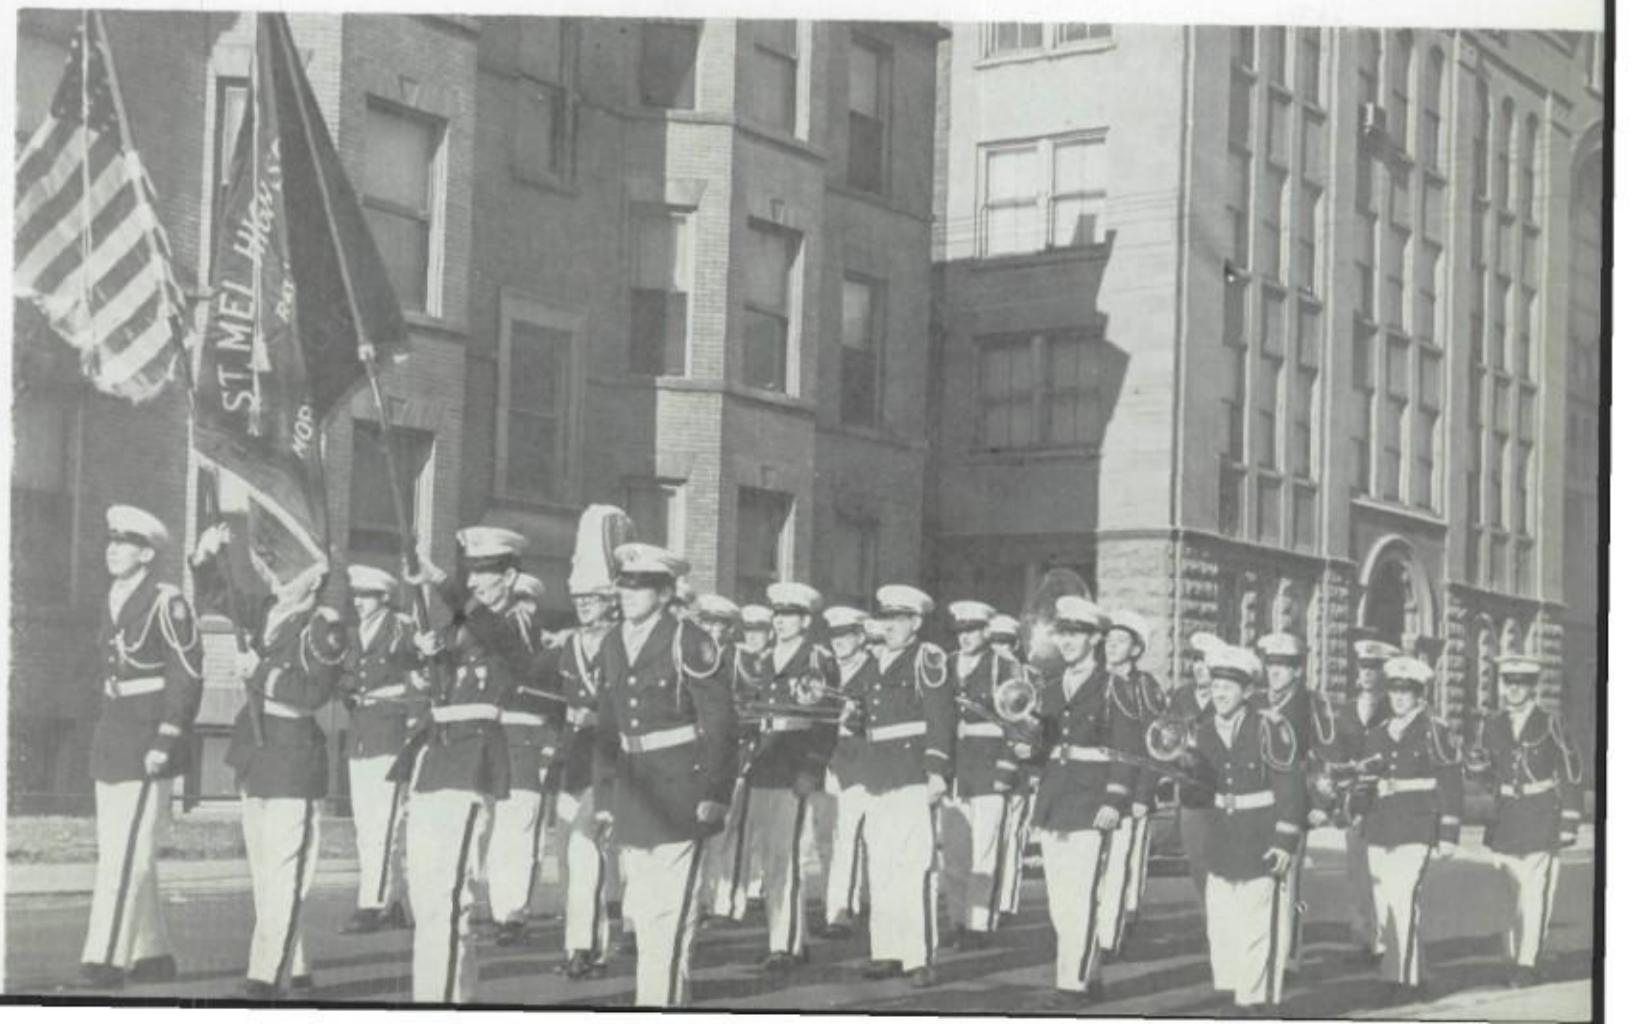

These four are the men who give fire to the team that has so well sounded forth the name and honor of St. Mel.

Recipe for a Night of Oriental Magic

- One Okinowan Teahouse.
- One blue paper sky, sprinkled with gold.
- The dim flickering of Chinese lanterns.
- Soft music drifting through the flaming streamers.
- One boy, one girl.

These dreamy ingredients were gently swirled together on the most memorable night of the Junior Dance. The mystic glow of this exotic event lent a wisp of warmth to that blistering cold February night. A dash of spice was added by the Ted Vargas Band.

My dear Knights of St. Mel:

In a few days you will be leaving your school but it will not be leaving you. I want to welcome you to this world of Mine. Much has been expected of you in the past four years. Now I expect much more. Do you know Me? Yes, you do. You've learned to know Me through this school dedicated to Me and you. I am with you during retreats, by you as you wade through a maze of questions and problems and within you during your monthly Confessions and Communions. I have chaperoned your proms and parties, watched you perspiring through your exams, and guided you through your work, play, and prayer.

You are the modern leaders. You are knighted to bring this world, that I love so much, back to Me. Yes, it is in a state of crisis. It was always thus. Your challenge is a little different. Just remember that I am with you all days—that, I have promised you. Since I am the secret of the atom, I am its solution. As I've been by you during the crucial years of your life, I am with My world during the crucial years of its life.

My Mystical Body needs leaders—leaders that are followers—followers of Me. Keep your Christian optimism. Wear it on your expression. Spread it by enthusiasm for My Church. Fan it into this puzzled, cynical world.

My Mother and yours needs modern champions—champions of Our Lady. Love her as I do and as I ask you to do.

I am your KING. Direct your MOVES as KNIGHTS on this CHESSBOARD of life toward Me, your GOAL and capture Me, Your KING.

You will have many class reunions in the years to come. You will proudly wear the label, St. Mel Alumni. There is, however, a final class reunion to which I am inviting you. It is a reunion in union with Me forever in paradise. Let no one of you be missing!

Eternally yours,
In Me, through Me
And with Me.

Middle—Seniors "rip it up" as their class representative mounts the soap box.

Lower right—Senior 405 rallied behind nominee B. Fiorita. The hall rang as their band march forward blasting out their campaign song.

"We're voting Fiorita, he's the man for the job.
 We're all behind Fiorita, we're all backing Bob.
 He's honest and loyal, courageous and true.
 Fiorita, Fiorita, Bob Fiorita is the man for you."

The Senior Election was the high point of the first semester. Campaigns burst forth with everything from cigars to sputniks. The stormy campaigns roared for four days climaxed by a riotous rally in the gymnasium. Former Junior President, J. McDonough ("Mr. X") reclaimed the title of President of the Class of 1958.

Does it come from practice or from strength and virtue within? Some say it takes a bigger champion to lose than to win. The Knights of St. Mel in their MODERN TEAMS are tasting the challenge of winning. Naturally we are quite proud of our teams, win or lose. However, winning more of our share of duels is becoming a habit. Just a look at the score boards in the past year clearly indicates the spirit of the MODERN TEAM linked together for victory.

The team is as strong as its weakest link. A missed block or a wild pass proves this fact all too clearly. The chain of the team can do what no individual can do alone. One link strengthens and aids the other toward the common goal.

An interesting gesture that truly symbolizes what makes our team tick is the huddle of prayer before its struggle. This team is not ashamed of its relation to the Found-Link, Christ, to the Highest and the Eternal. It's not too concerned about the "missing link" to the past and to the lowest. "Our Lady of Victory, pray for us."

Our MODERN TEAMS have taken the St. Mel Victory Song literally—"St. Mel Knights are marching to victory today."

st. mel varsity, our pride and joy

BEGINNING OF AN ERA

The two man team of coaches Keane and Salato during their stay at St. Mel have worked long and hard at two goals: One, the developing of the character, sinew, and morals of their players as they fathered men from boys; and the other (dream of many years) to win the Catholic League Football Championship. As Rome wasn't built in a day—but it was built—St. Mel has been in the past few years going one step at a time in one direction—up. To sum it up, we had, this year, the horses to achieve goals that eluded us for many years. The Knights shut out St. Ignatius (first time in history), tied Fenwick (after a long drought), and their most important achievement, reached the Catholic League Playoffs for the first time since 1935. It was quite a season.

On a feverish afternoon at Garfield Park, the Varsity gave a hint of what was to come. They pushed a better than average Gordon Tech team all over the field in a spring scrimmage. Further evidence that St. Mel was a definite power to be reckoned with was shown in their first exhibition game. They left the Loyola Ramblers groaning on the gridiron in a 25-0 shambles. A true test of a champion begins in the Catholic League—the Big Ten of high school football. Our season briefly went as follows: After slugging it out toe-to-toe with the Weber Red Horde, the Knights bowed in a heart-breaker, 7-6. Uncrushed and determined the Knights rebounded by rumbling over St. Patrick, 25-12. Only once again, decimated by the Asian Flu, we ran into a classy Mount Carmel eleven to be clawed, 33-12. Still the spark was not smothered as they ground out a 7-0 thriller over St. Phillip in a vicious game. The victory thirsty Knights proceeded to chew up St. Ignatius, 12-0. The grand finale of the season was a mud-soaked 7-7 deadlock with Fenwick. By virtue of this game, St. Mel qualified for a playoff berth and took undisputed possession of second place in the Central Section. In the playoffs, the Knights fought hard and went down battling at the hands of their nemesis, Mt. Carmel, 39-19. This was the season—here is the team that made it; indeed a MODERN TEAM.

"things are looking up"

In his first year of coaching at St. Mel ex-Weber coach, Mr. Bob McAlpine, and his assistant, Mr. Bernard Rumps, did an excellent job. In a few short weeks they put together a Freshman team that achieved a 1-1-1 record, with a victory over St. Patrick 20-7, a 0-0 tie with St. Philip, and a 13-12 loss to Fenwick.

Voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates was halfback John Bosco. Top defensive linemen were Leo Sisleono and Rocco Filaponi.

THE SOPHS

Again Mr. Bob Cahill turned in a masterful coaching job by leading his powerful Soph team to a semi-spectacular 3-1 season. Falling to the victory-hungry Sophs were perennially powerful Lane Tech, 27-0, St. Patrick, 26-0, and Taft 26-0. Only foe able to cross the defense-minded Sophs goal was Schurz, 15-13 victor while the Knights were plagued by the flu epidemic.

Moving up to the varsity next year are top Soph stars Dan Mazzolini and Paul Barry in the line and swift half-back, Joe Zilla.

st. mel heavies gain 2nd place— central division

They're at the post . . . ready . . . and they're off!

In the pre-season games, the St. Mel Heavies left everyone at the post with an opening burst of 5 straight wins, then settled down to an even pace by swapping 2 wins for 2 losses as they rounded the club house turn. Suddenly, hampered by a lame leg, the team slowed down to a walk by losing the first game in the De Paul tournament and 3 opening league games. As they went into the far turn, our boys gained steam by splitting 4 games. Then, like Silky Sullivan, coming into the home stretch, the hard driving Knights knocked out 3 victories in a row. Another loss and a win to come under the wire in the money—2nd place—Central Section; and a playoff berth—an old habit with St. Mel Basketball teams.

The 1958 season had its ups and downs for the heavies. Just when the outlook was dimest, our court cagers delighted their followers with a sudden flash of speed which gained them a playoff bid, only to be snuffed out in a last minute thriller by the Leo Lions 60-57.

Clark Odom, Catholic high jump champion, exhibits his outstanding rebounding skill against Mt. Carmel in home gym.

lights overcome growing pains

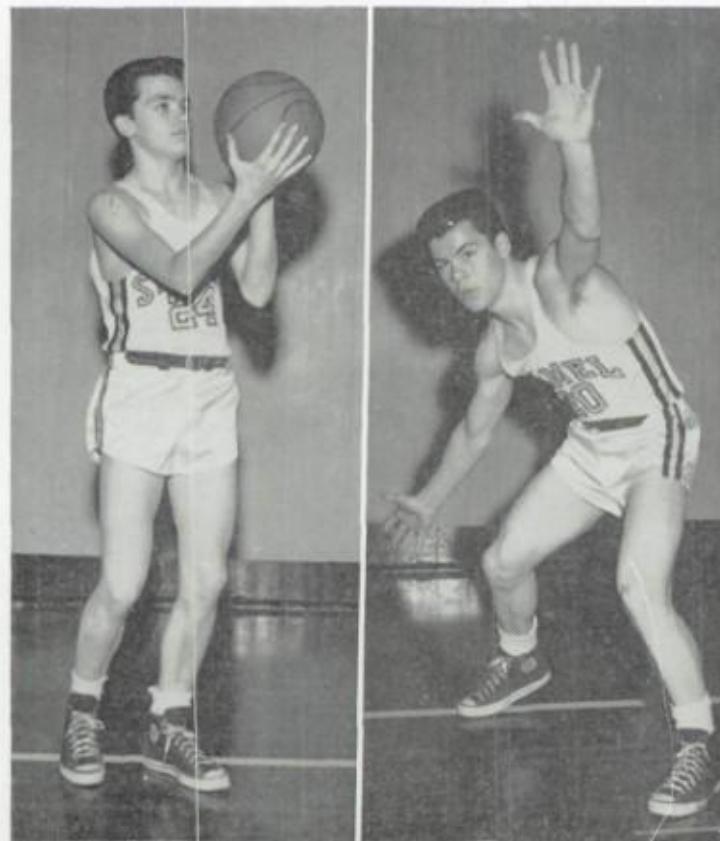

The Light Weight team batted .300 in wins and losses this year; they batted 1,000 in the intangibles of spirit and determination.

A peculiar feature of the peach fuzz kids (not a senior on the team) was their ability to rise to the occasion. In the Fenwick Tournament, the so-called mediocre lights knocked over highly-touted St. Pat's and made Weber sweat it out thru an overtime to squeeze out a win. When the spotlight of pressure was brightest, they responded quickest.

The team had their Valley Forges but never a Waterloo. A losing streak never broke their spirit. Handicapped mostly by lack of experience, the lights under the patient finger of Coach Luksta, overcame much of their difficulty and had their moments of glory. Two of them were beating the playoff teams—Weber and St. Ignatius.

Some of the more promising players are Martin Farmer—first team Central Section—a scrappy, classy ball handler, play-maker and sparkplug along with his on-court, off-court partner, Jim Martin—All Catholic, first team Central Section—league's number two scorer—and a shooter with uncanny accuracy.

Other members of the team that give hint of starry performances after purge of experience are: A. Crowley—an umbrella on defense, A. Zito, a rough rebounder and gangling J. Stepps, T. Horan, G. Vlach, and M. Deppen. If boys can stoop under height next year, we may be tempted here to use the battle cry of former Brooklyn fans—"Wait till next year."

st. mel's new look—a frosh team

There were two new additions on the West Building basketball front during the '57-'58 season. They were: 1. The former Fly-Bantam Coach, Mr. Cahill, was put in charge of St. Mel's first Frosh team. 2. 1957 grads, the Slingerland twins, Ed and Bob, returned to St. Mel to mastermind Fly-Bantam operations in Mr. Cahill's absence.

Cross country is an activity which few students know much about. It is a distance run, covering two miles for the Senior squad, and a mile and a quarter for the Junior team. It requires stamina, courage, and hard work.

The St. Mel team was captained by Don Gimbel. The coach is E. J. Holland, and its moderator is Brother Leonard. As far as the results of the seasonal records show, St. Mel had an unsuccessful season; however, the Junior team had success against St. Pats, whipping the Shamrocks in a practice meet at Riis Park 22 to 48. Daly came in second for St. Mel, Rondenalla third.

Something new has been added to the St. Mel swimming maneuvers this year. Expert instructors guided the steps and strokes of Knights from beginners' dog paddles to breast strokes, backstrokes, sidestrokes and the Australian Crawl of accomplished swimmers. The finished style of grace in diving rounded out the course. The mermen of St. Mel can not only keep their own heads above the water but help others to do the same.

track team on the go

The sport called Track does not only concern running, but also involves a division called Field. The Field Events such as the broad jump, shot put, pole vault, high jump, and hurdles — both high and low — comprise the better portion of a Track meet. Coach Holland has been heard to say that without personnel that is successful in Field events, a Track team is not likely to do very well.

St. Mel was able to boast a truly outstanding Field event man in the 1958 season. He is Senior Captain Clark Odom, who was not only one of the city's best at his specialty, High Jumping, but also an all-around hurdler and dash man.

"for the glory of the home room"

Nearly every day before school and for many hours after, the gym floors are alive with the spark and spring of spirited athletes practicing for the lunch period intramurals. The lively enthusiasm toward these contests can also be seen by the excited cheering of the spectators during games. These intramural games, under the direction of Brother Arnold and Mr. Albano, have become an important part of the school curriculum. Besides giving the students a chance to let off steam between classes, these tournaments develop a spirit of fair play and good sportsmanship. Homeroom teams compete for honors in various games during the lunch period intramurals.

In the West Building both volleyball and basketball trophies were captured by the flashy young knights of Freshman 41.

In the East Building, the volleyball championship was swept away by Senior 405. Junior 304 grasped the top honors in the basketball tournament in a hair-raiser 18-17.

tenpin topplers — a t.v. preview

Every Wednesday at Cascade Bowling Lanes swarms of Knights roll 'em and bowl 'em. Our most widespread adult pastime is fast becoming our favorite young adult pastime. Bowling, this year, is the activity claiming largest participation.

In interschool competition, the Senior Team chalked up last place, but the Junior Team, finding the groove about mid-season, came on strong to finish third.

Outstanding feat of the year was "whopping 625" bowled by Dan Kazmarek during tournament. It was highest series in the league.

The zenith of the season is the Bowling Banquet at Chateau Royale, May 21, where our Keglers have the pleasant company of lovely bowlers of Providence, Sienna, Josephinum, and Columbkille High Schools.

requiescant in pace

Be mindful, O Lord, of Thy servants, Brother Eugene and John Bell, who have gone before us with the sign of faith, and rest in sleep of peace. To these, O Lord, and to all who sleep in Christ, we beseech Thee to grant, of Thy goodness, a place of comfort, light, and peace. Through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
